Famine Looms Within Two Weeks If Cold Wave Sets In Without Supply.

By Associated Press.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Oct. 31.—Charles E. Hughes today defined to audience in Indiana the platform on which he is running, as follows:

"Let us be true Americans, serving the welfare of the entire people, conserving the American home, conserving American prosperity, building up the opportunities of labor and uniting as our priceless heritage the fact that we do not flinch by rule or arms and strength, but by the rule of reason in a community fair minded and upright in justice."

That is my platform, follow it closely. If you want me, serve me, take me on that basis."

Mr. Hughes faced the first audience of the day here. He had spoken previously at Columbus, Bedford and Washington, to many scattered audiences to hear him. They welcomed him frequently. At Columbus and Washington he used language, the first one saying that he was "an amateur."

Hecklers Open Up.—Individuals interrupted Mr. Hughes' address with the question, "What will be done with the German submarine?"—The word "war" in the address was mentioned by all three and it is impossible to say if he increased or decreased his audience in Atlanta.

The message of no peace that the Mexican places before the American commissioners differs in part.

By the press of the United States and through other channels we have been informed that the members of the Mexican government, who are fighting against it at various points in the republic have been continually broadcasting the most exaggerated stories regarding Mexican affairs, which have been communicated to the press by Mexican agents.

Our officials could make no further statement than to say that the Mexican situation is not known to us.
